

coast gets eco organised!

The Coast team recently moved office to set up shop in the town of San Remo. We wanted to make the best use of the space, so we called in professional eco-organiser and home stylist, Tanya Lewis.

Editorial space - Blind creates zoning
Photos add interest

Recycle furniture with new paint
Plants absorb office emissions

Meeting room
Functional polished concrete floors

EcoOrganiser and home styling
Tanya Lewis
Call 5989 2009.
www.ecoorganiser.com.au

First visit:

Tanya arrives at our just-moved-in jumble of an office to survey the space and discuss our individual and group needs to make sure Coast runs as efficiently as possible! Amidst many lively discussions, Tanya takes photos and measurements, and we all enjoy a fun and relaxed morning.

Second visit:

Tanya comes back to deliver our styling scheme. She has devised floor plans outlining furniture placements to meet our office needs and systems. She then presents us with the mood board she has created to ensure that the Coast office reflects us as a team.

The results speak for themselves!

We loved:

- Tanya's philosophy of not spending a fortune to make our space functional and beautiful
- Bringing personal objects into the space to make it our own
- Deck chairs in the office – they act as a funky coastal decoration as well as giving us the chance to sit outside and have meetings in the sun 'coast style'
- Reinventing objects and furniture that we already have
- Creating a central message-board by painting a door with blackboard paint

Tanya works on the basic organising principles of:

- o Zoning
- o Furniture placement
- o Traffic
- o Storage solutions

"Organise Your Office" says Tanya

"We enjoy a home that nourishes and supports our lifestyle, and since we spend so much time at work, why shouldn't we expect the same from our office? In these competitive times businesses are always looking for efficiency and a way to stand out. A well-organised office that functions and flows increases productivity, reduces stress, saves money and reduces our carbon footprint.

My role is to create inspirational spaces that make people want to come to work, that improve relationships and increase productivity. Eco Organiser creates customised solutions to help others get organised, find balance, restore order and maximise resources. They work with what you already have to create the space you want. 'A place for everything and everything in its place' – this may sound dull and boring, but there is so much truth in it." Eco Organiser Tanya Lewis.

